

CLTD - CERTIFIED IN LOGISTICS, TRANSPORTATION & DISTRIBUTION

The Certified in Logistics, Transportation and Distribution (CLTD) certification demonstrates in-depth knowledge of a broad range of topics to set you apart from your peers - proving your high level of knowledge and skills.

For more than 60 years, APICS has demonstrated a commitment to global supply chain excellence. Now part of ASCM, we're proud to offer CLTD, the globally recognized logistics, transportation and distribution program that you've come to trust.

As an APICS CLTD designee, you will have the skills and knowledge it takes to get noticed by employers and stand out from your peers. Earning the APICS CLTD certification will demonstrate your commitment to advancing both your career and your company's operations.

Designees on average earn 27 percent more than their counterpart without an APICS certification. CLTD increase your knowledge and skills, helping you to stand out from your peers. Benefit from becoming recognized as a logistic expert.

The program is designed for:

- Logistics managers / engineers
- Supply chain logistics managers
- Transportation / fleet managers
- Warehouse operations / distribution managers
- Reverse logistics managers
